

65R You Whose Spirit Dwells In All

1. You whose spir - it dwells in all, pri - mal source of
2. What shall sep - a - rate from you? None of earth's cre-
3. Yours, the at - om's faint - est thrill; Yours, the humb - lest
4. Yearn - ing for the crown - ing race: We, in whom at
5. Se - crets too of things to be, in the cy - cles

life and mind, through - out earth and in each soul,
- a - ted things! Joy and sor - row, good and ill,
crea - ture's breath; Pro - phet soul in eve - ry kind,
last un - fold all your se - crets strange and sweet
on be - fore: Love that strong - er is than death,

ev - er full and un - con - fined!
each from you its es - sence brings.
yearn - ing still through life and death.
from the farth - est days of old.
Life with you for - ev - er - more.

Lyrics: John White Chadwick (1890), alt. REH (2006)
Music: UNIVERSITY COLLEGE (7.7.7.7.), Henry John Gauntlett (1852)

