

89R O God of Morning

♩=115

1. O God of morn - ing and of night, we thank thee for
2. Fresh hopes have wak - ened in the heart, fresh force to do
3. Yet while thy will we would pur - sue, oft what we would
4. O Light of lights, 'tis thou a - lone canst make our sha -

thy gifts of light; As in the dawn the sha - dows our dai - ly part; thy slum - ber gifts our strength re - we can - not do; the Sun may stand in ze - nith
- dowed hearts thine own; though this new day with joy we fly, we seem to find thee now more nigh.

- store, through - out the day to serve thee more.
skies, but on the soul thick mid - night lies.
see, Great Dawn of God, we cry for thee.

Words: Francis Turner Palgrave (1860), rev. REH (2005)
Music: MORNING HYMN (L.M.), François Hippolyte Barthélemon (1785)